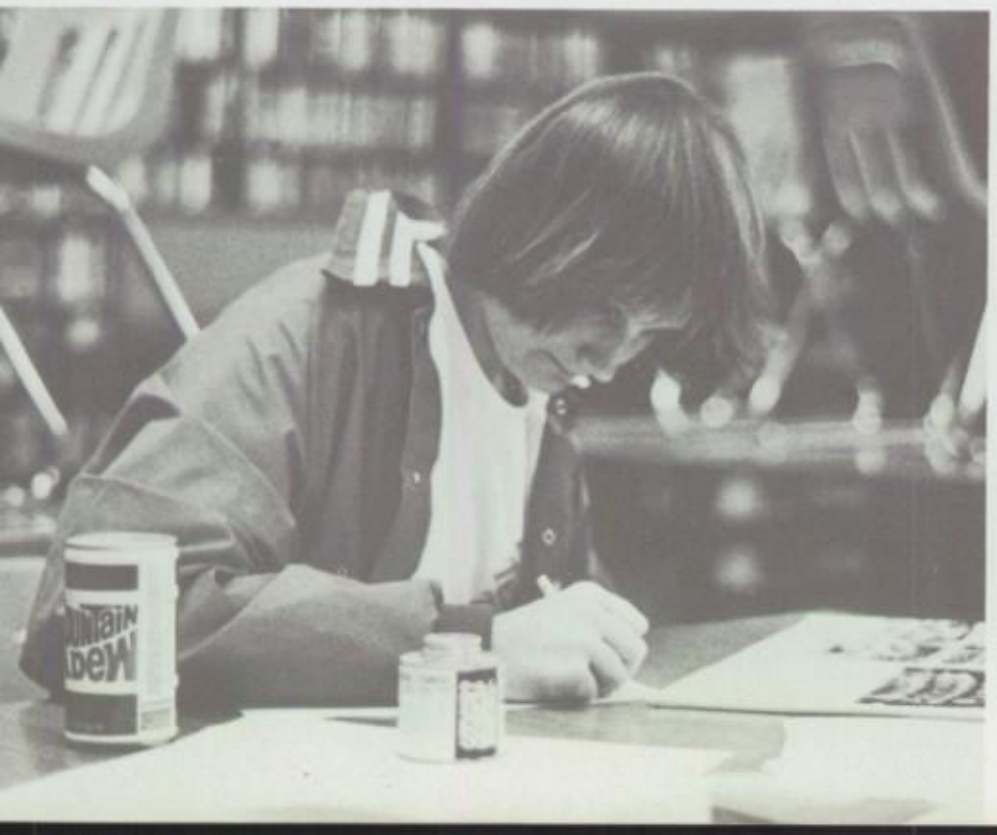
Activities & Organizations



Homecoming Candidates

Homecoming Week

Much excitement filled the halls of P.H.S. during the week of Oct. 6 - Oct. 10. The hallways had been decorated with movie themes. Several other activities were scheduled throughout the week, building towards the big Homecoming game.

During the beginning of the week, an irresistable male contest was held. On this day, no girl was suppose to talk to any guys. If she did, he won her "Mr. Irresistable" button. Ron Jansen received the most buttons, thus winning the title of "Mr. Irresistable."

On Tuesday, crazy day was held. Several students dressed in unusual costumes, such as Danny Walitshek who wore a dress. Wednesday was just the opposite with everyone looking nice for dress-up day. Later that evening, Coronation was held in which the 1980 Homecoming royalty was crowned.

Everyone got to wear their favorite hat in school on Thursday, and Crusader spirit was shown on Friday with everyone dressed in red and white.

Everyone participated in the "Challenge of the Classes" on Friday afternoon. This consisted of activities such as tug-of-war, whipped cream fights, the Crusader relay, egg and water balloon tosses, and pogo stick races.

Homecoming week was topped off with a 33-6 Crusader victory against the Wellsburg Warriors Friday night and the Homecoming dance afterwards.

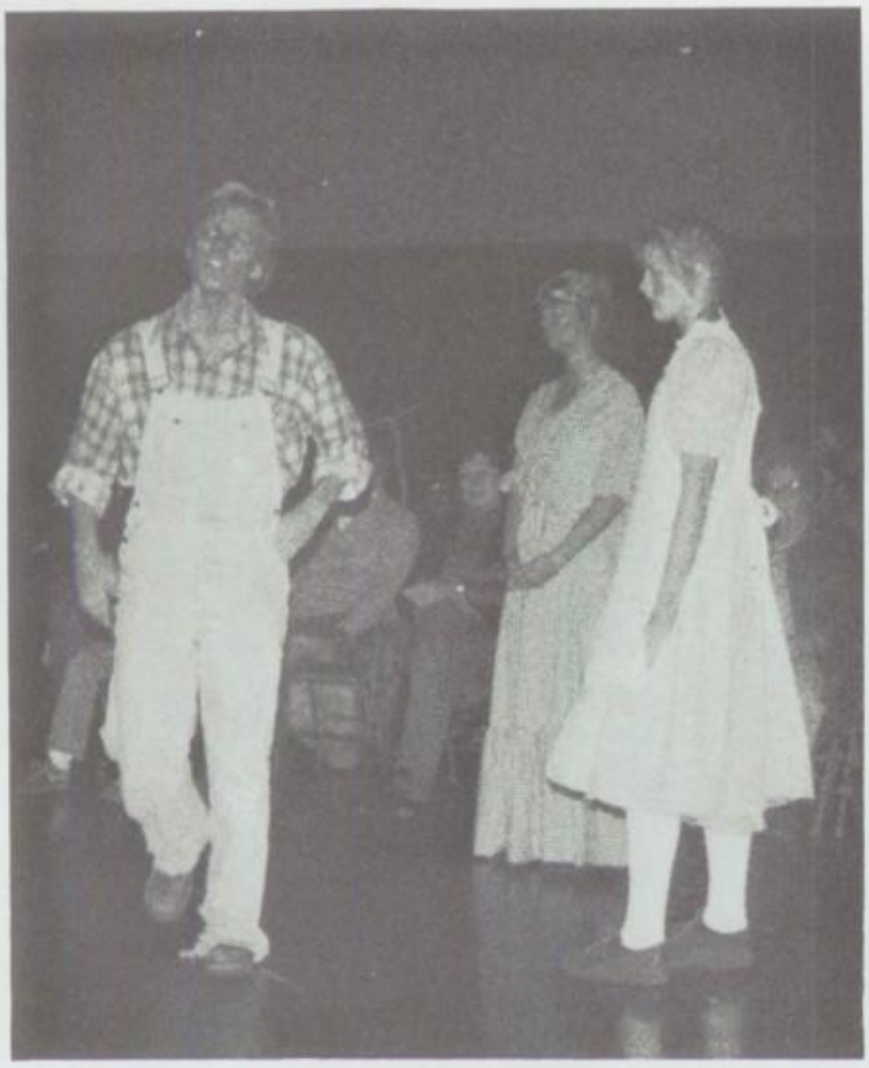
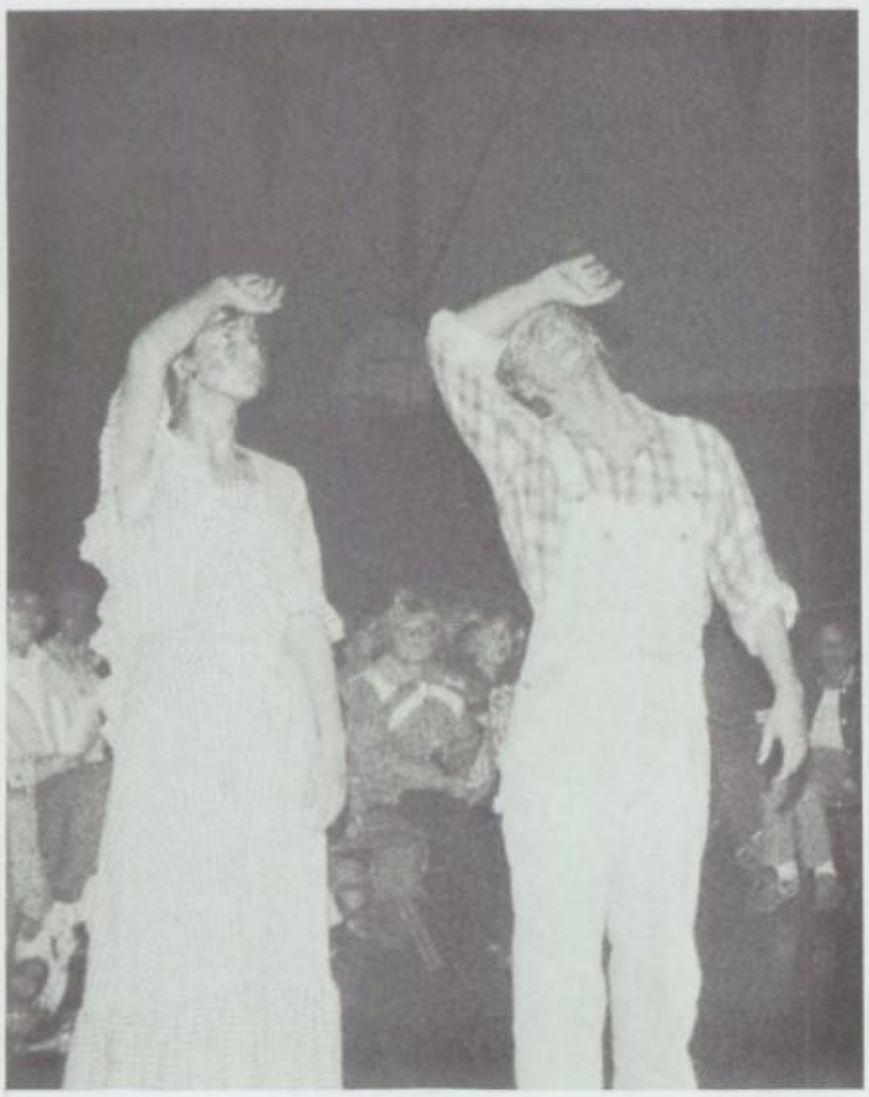
Only an Orphan Girl

A Soul-stirring Drama of Human Trials and Tribulations in Four Acts

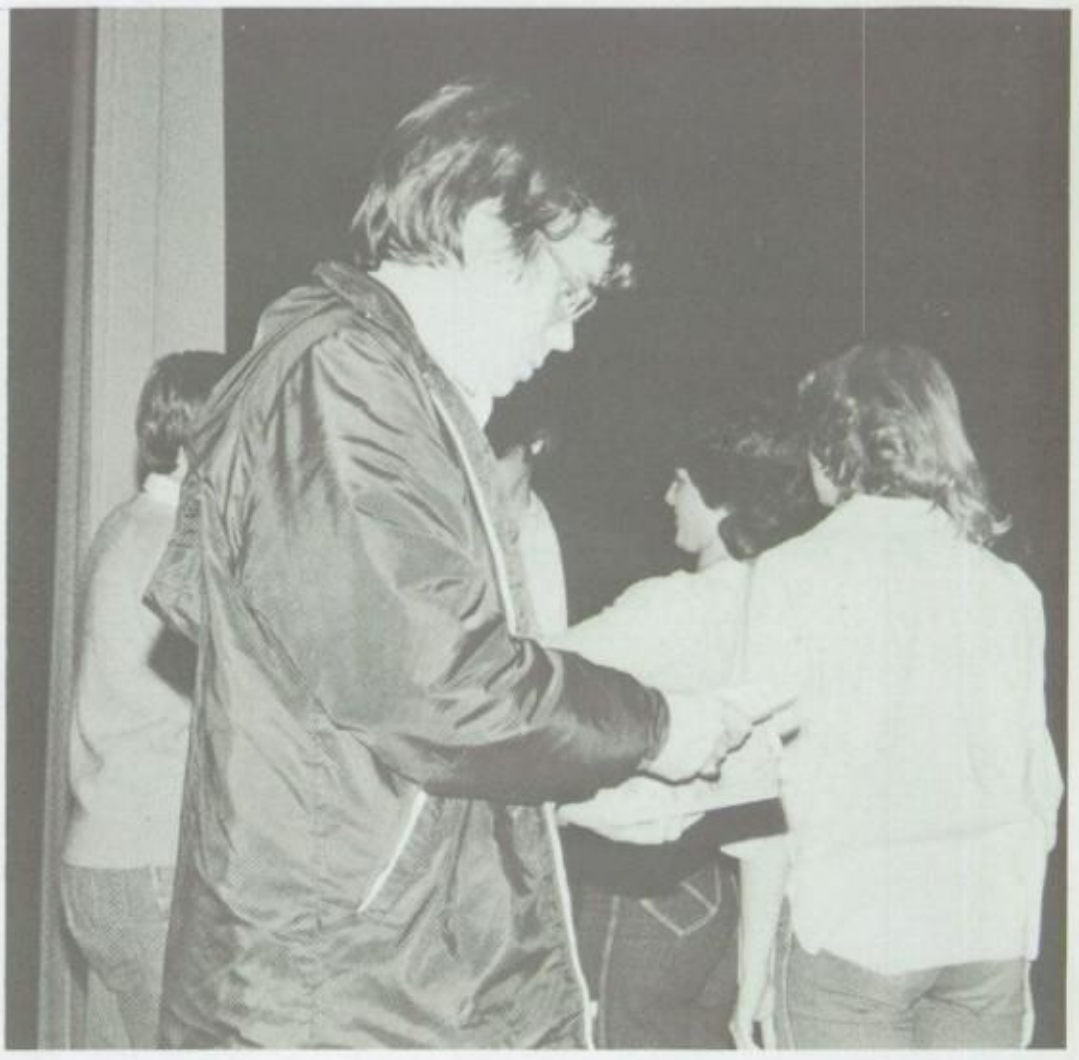
"... a typical evening's entertainment of singalongs, dramatic readings, and theater as might have occurred here in Parkersburg near the turn of the century."

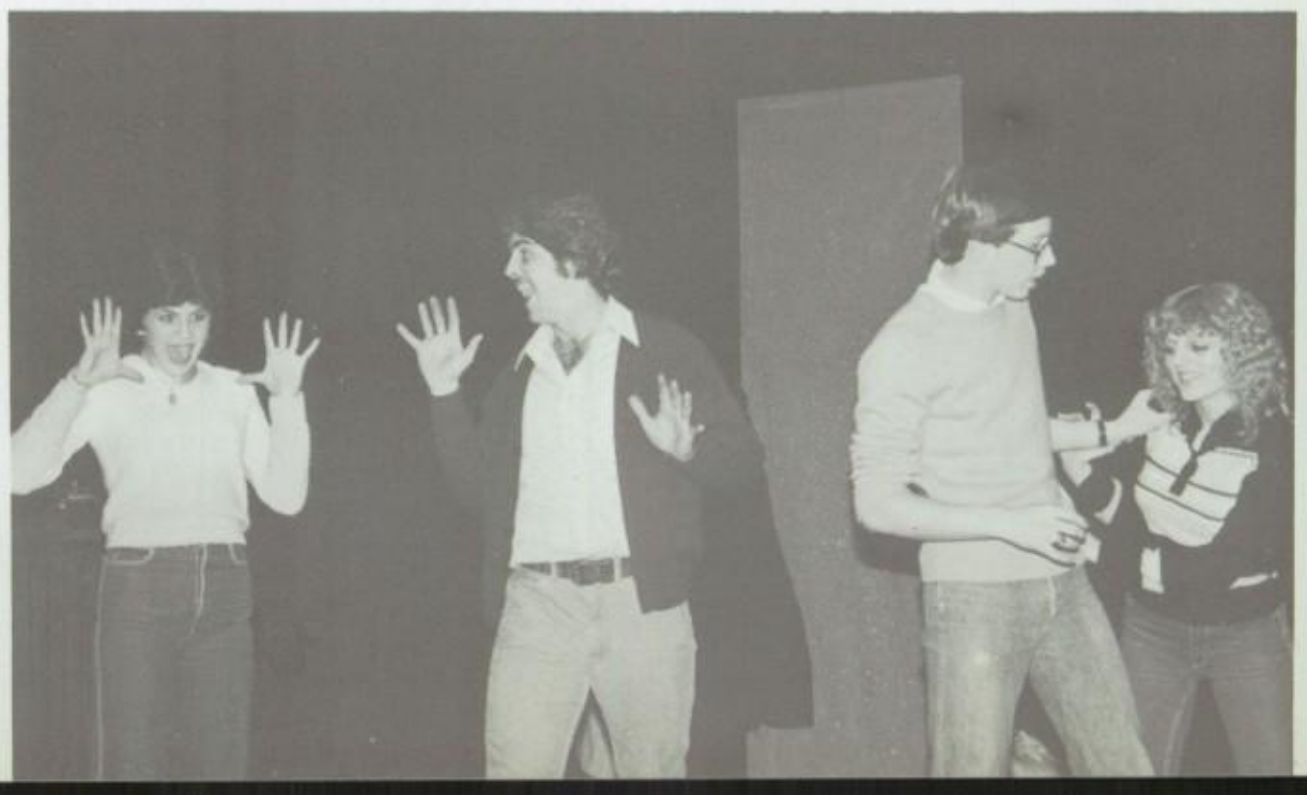
Fall Play





Members of the cast included Keith Kluiter, John Mulder, Curt Patterson, Wanda Van Hauen, Sharon Denholm, Jane Arends, Angie Seehusen, Sandy Johnson, Kreg Hoppenworth, and Robyn Knock. The Chorus consisted of Dawn Buss, Kim Haylock, Wendi Johnson, Robyn Knock, Deidre Lewis, Laurene McKittrick, Janna Wix, and Gayla Vanderholt.





Spring Play
"Murder On Center Stage"

A "play within a play" that contained the elements of "innocent victims, a twisting, turning plot, suspense, and a startling climax," was performed by the PHS players to enthusiastic audiences for two nights. Shown here are some scenes from the play, and performers preparing for the production. The second photo from the left on the top row shows the play's director, Mr. Jessel busy checking the script during rehearsal.

-Cast members included Angie Seehusen, Janna Wix, Sandi Johnson, Ron Jansen, Wanda Van Hauen, Keith Kluiter, Wendi Johnson, Laurene McKittrick, and Curt Patterson.

The supportive crew consisted of assistant directors, Jane Arends and Dawn Simon; light technician, Cary Bergman; sound effects, Jane Arends; set preparation, Janna Wix, Jerry Jolley, Jane Arends, Sandi Johnson; makeup, Stacy Bartels.

RAMADA
INN
WATERLOO, IOWA

Prom 1981
"We've Got Tonight"

On Prom night, April 25, most of the P.H.S. juniors and seniors could be found at the Ramada Inn in Waterloo. The highlight of the banquet was the traditional reading of the senior class prophecies by Deb Patterson and the wills which were read by Ron Jansen. Afterwards, a few of the students stayed awhile for the dance with music(?) provided by the group "Midnight Flyer." However, it was a night to be remembered by everyone, whether at the banquet itself or afterwards.

Speech

Five of the seven students who participated in individual speech contest qualified for state competition. On the opposite page, the two students who received Division I ratings are pictured; Robyn Knock for her performance in Interpretive Reading-Poetry, and Wendi Johnson in Humorous Acting. In the lower left corner of this page, the three students who received Division II ratings at state are pictured; Curt Patterson for Dramatic Acting, and Laurene McKittrick and Keith Kluiter in Humorous Acting.

This group is involved in several activities throughout the year. These activities include organizing the homecoming activities and dance, trick-or-treating for UNICEF at Halloween, and providing movies for the student body during the year. By collecting Campbells soup labels, they were also able to donate various items to help the teachers in academic areas.

Money-raising activities the student senate held included a pancake and sausage supper and a carnival. With these profits, they donated $25 towards the high school C.P.R. equipment and $25 to the Sudden Infant Death Syndrome Research.

Through student exchanges with area schools and the leadership conferences they attended, the senate members were able to view the differences in school systems and acquire new ideas for PHS.

National Honor Society

This year five juniors and two seniors were inducted into the Joe Van Eschen chapter of the National Honor Society in ceremonies held on April 10. Pictured at left, they are: Karen Allspach, Marti Haan, Suean Heckroth, Joyce Hook, Wendi Johnson, Michelle Karsjens, and Patty Schwerdtfeger. From the nominees, the faculty at PHS elects these students for their outstanding character, scholarship, leadership, and service. In addition to this criteria, they must have maintained at least a B average and have participated in at least four extracurricular activities during high school.

Mini Courses

Students took a break from their daily routine on May 8. On this day, they were given the chance to participate in various courses of their interest. These included fun topics such as cake decorating, cosmetics, hairstyling, cribbage, and camping. Other courses which were favorites among the students included canoeing, angling, horseback riding, and golfing. Through these activities, the students became more aware of the educational experiences available outside the classroom.

Elementary Bands:

Beginning in the fifth grade, students receive instruction with musical instruments. Much individual and group practice in fifth and sixth grades culminates in fine performances during Christmas and Spring Concerts. This early training is vital for the development of a community music program.

FACULTY

New Superintendent For Parkersburg Community School

Citizens of Parkersburg:

A mirror is a reflection of the physical space objects amass in the world.

We are, in most respects, reflections of various sources. First of all, we certainly are reflections of our parents in physical stature and mental ability. We are also reflections of our upbringing influenced by our community, our church and our school.

Much of what we attest to believe and adhere too: our philosophy of life; our religion; in general our belief in fellow man, has been an influence from perhaps all of these sources.

As we mature, however, we have an obligation. One that should not be taken lightly. An obligation to build upon our inherited and influenced traits. We have a moral obligation to improve and progress the abilities we possess.

The educational process prepares students to meet the world. They will have, over a period of 13 years, been nourished physically, mentally and spiritually by their friends, church, school, and community. As they choose the direction they will take they share in the obligation to continue to learn and in the process, perhaps through their own children and friends, they too will pass on an influence of their own. Hopefully, a strong positive influence, worthy of a clear and bright mirrored reflection will appear.
